Local Map Available

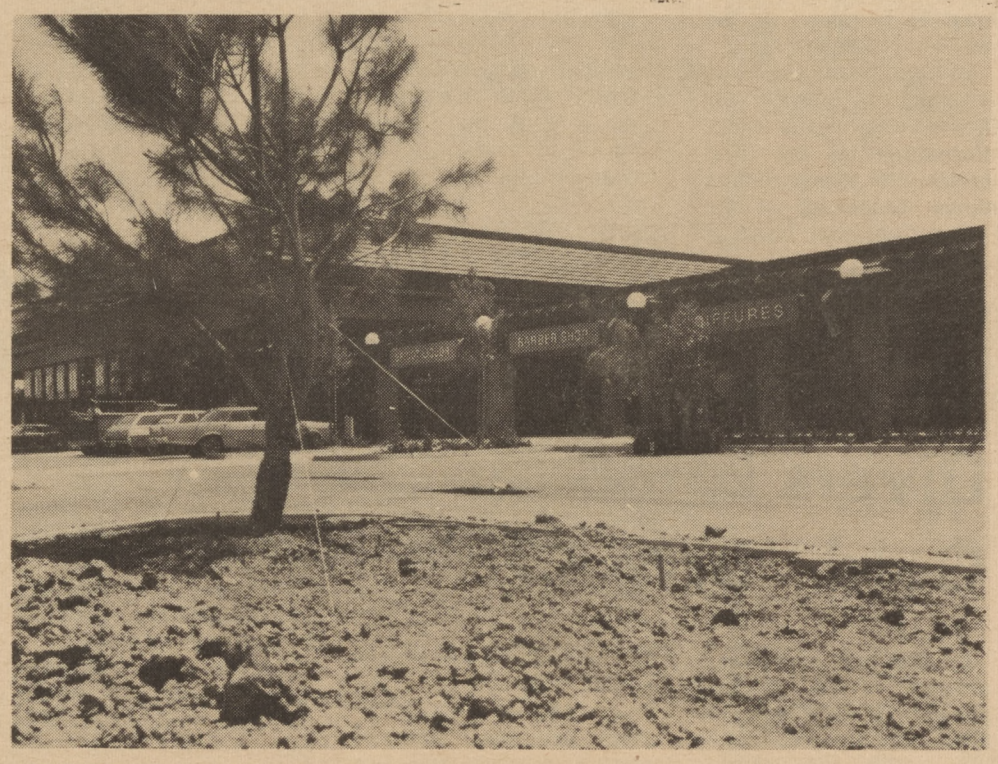
By Dan Wooldrige

The only detailed composite map available of the El Toro, Mission Viejo, Capistrano Highlands, Leisure World, Aegena Hills, Laguna Niguel, and Leisure World, is presently being provided to all residents by a group of civic-minded merchants and businessmen.

The 11" by 17" map is being distributed to over 20,000 residents and merchants by the Rancho Reporter. Bob Hosmer of Capistrano Highlands is the publisher of the map which was prepared from numerous official section maps.

According to Hosmer the map will be up-dated after the first of the year since our area is expanding so rapidly. Additional 11" by 17" maps, which fold easily for mailing, are available at the RANCHO REPORTER Office in El Toro. Cost of the maps are 25 copies for $2.00. These maps contain no advertisements as do the still larger 30" by 40" map which sells for $15.00.

Participating merchants are Henry's TV, Play Girl, MV Garden Center, John's Hardware, Consolidated Supply, Hal Kemper, Rotar Tilling, Village Coffee, Wattenberg & Son Decorators, Martinizing Cleaners, University Glass, La Paz Real Estate, and the RANCHO REPORTER.



UNIVERSITY PARK CENTER opens for business today for the residents of Turtle Rock, University Park, and the University of California at Irvine. Eight business shops will open with formal dedication ceremonies slated for September.

University Park is located on Culver Drive and Mathews Road directly across from the 18-hole Rancho San Joaquin public golf course and east of the University of California, Irvine.

The RANCHO REPORTER extends its welcome to the 11,000 residents of Leisure World as we extend our coverage this week to include you. If you are interested in receiving the RR regularly clip out the form on page 4. Thank you.

Water Bonds Win Voter Approval

Voters in the huge Moulton-Niguel Water District last week gave overwhelming approval to a $26,605,000 bond election.

The favorable response from the voters in the 24,000 acre water and sanitation district assures orderly expansion of water facilities for the next 20 years.

Water bonds ammounting to $785,000 and $6,400,000 in sanitation bonds were passed with a comfortable margin. In Mission Viejo, which comprises a portion of the Moulton-Niguel Water District, voters led with 98% yes vote out of the excellent turn-out of 78% eligible.

MNWD District Manager Carl Kymla said the bonds will finance reservoirs, pumping stations, and mains for Mission Viejo, El Toro, and Laguna Niguel.

The only eligible voters for this special election were those property owners who appeared on the 1967-68 tax rolls.

SUPERVISOR WILLIAM HIRSTEIN, represents El Toro, East Irvine, and Mission Viejo in the County government. Hirstein expresses views on taxes, parks, roads, and county government in this special interview with the Rancho Reporter.

Supervisor Hirstein Views Taxes, Parks

By Dan C. Wooldridge
News Editor

Supervisor William Hirstein in a special interview with the RANCHO REPORTER announced approval by the County Supervisors for the construction of an overpass on El Toro Road.

The $1,097,000 project will be funded by State gas taxes pending approval and release of funds by the state government. Located at the intersection of El Toro Road and the Sante Fe Railroad tracks the overpass will allow safe passage on the heavily traveled street.

Sup. Hirstein explained though he personally "hoped it would go underground," but the costly problem of drainage made it impossible.

Funds for the project, according to Hirstein depends upon how the $5 million state gas tax pie is cut. The project is 16th in line for the funds, but the inability of other projects to raise matching funds perhaps will allow the El

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Map Backers Deserve Praise

CARL VENSTROM

Congratulations to a group of local merchants who gave their economic support to the publishing of the only detailed, composite map of the El Toro, Mission Viejo, Capistrano Highlands, Leisure World, Aegean Hills, Laguna Niguel, and Leisure World area.

A news story is on page one of this issue explaining more of the details of the publishing of this map. Publisher of the map is Bob Hosmer of Capistrano Highlands and he should certainly be congratulated on the care and professional work he did in seeing that the map was produced and financed here in our area.

The map is being distributed today via the RANCHO REPORTER to the readers of this newspaper. We hope you will save the map and will find it helpful to you and guests from outside our area.

It was nice to be connected with a local project that certainly turned out to be a success.

Area Sees Retail, Industrial Growth

The retail business is certainly expanding in our area.

And this is good. Good for the residents to be able to shop close, and good for the lowering of our tax rate.

A quick report this week would include today's "gala opening" of a shopping center in University Park. Last week an additional shopping center was opened in Mission Viejo. Last week also saw the opening of a quality restaurant in El Toro named the "Golden Bull."

We hope at this writing we haven't overlooked any other expansion going on in our area. Another highlight of economic expansion will be the opening of the North American Rockwell plant.

This retail business expansion is the life blood of our community. These businesses not only bring money to our area but also bring us leadership. There is an Exchange Club presently being formed in El Toro. A Rotary Club in Laguna Hills has been functioning for more than a year now. A Kiwanis Club in Laguna Hills has been operating for more than a year and a Kiwanis Club in Mission Viejo has been operating for around nine months.

These service clubs mean interest and contributions of all types to our community. These are the clubs that sponsor little league, the boys scouts and many other worthwhile activities.

It might also be well to point out that the Saddleback Area Coordinating Council is having its fourth meeting tonight at the Royal Savings and Loan in the El Toro Shopping Center. Bob Price is the temporary chairman and has done a terrific job of getting representatives of all our different civic groups together in the planning of an over-all growth pattern.

It's certainly stimulating — and fun — to be publishing a newspaper in an area that's as alive as this one is.

Exchange Club of Laguna Hills Plans Dinner, Sept. Chartering

By CARL E. VENSTROM
Editor and Publisher

The recently formed Exchange Club of Laguna Hills is presently planning an evening dinner meeting on Thursday, September 12, where wives of the members will be present as well as other guests who are potential members of the local service club.

Anyone interested in becoming a member or anyone who wants more information on the local service club should contact James Radabaugh of the United California Bank at Leisure World.

Radabaugh said this week that anyone in the community interested in the club should also feel free to attend the weekly meetings which take place on Thursdays at noon at Topper's Restaurant in El Toro.

In an interview this week with Robert E. Turner, Newport Beach resident and District Director, California District Exchange Clubs, he said:

"The National Exchange Club, exclusively an American organization, charters local Exchange Clubs only in the United States and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

"Its Program of Education provides these local Clubs with educational materials of a genuinely American nature to assist them in the successful fulfillment of their obligations to patriotically serve communities, states, and the Nation."

The first local Exchange Club was formed in Detroit, Michigan, on March 27, 1911.

Turner also explained that Exchange Clubs are comprised of the community's leading business and professional men. Clubs hold regular meetings enjoying speakers of note on educational and inspirational topics; entertainment; and the exchange of ideas that are of service to the community, state, and the Nation.

"The final drive for charter members is under way at the present time, and it is hoped that the Laguna Hills Club will be chartered during the month of September," concluded Turner.

Turner was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Exchange Club where he spoke on the problems that law enforcement is faced with.

Divers Lured By Gold "Dive-In"

On Saturday, August 24, a treasure "dive-in" will take place at Dana Point. The event is being sponsored by the AZTEC-SIX Marine Historical Society, a non-profit organization devoted to recovery, by electronic instrumentation, of some of the countless treasures and artifacts that now lie on the ocean front.

The first dive, at 11 a.m., is for registered divers with scuba gear. A helicopter will drop 500 replicas of gold doubloons and silver pieces of eight into about twenty feet of water off the Dana Point beach. Certain of these have been stamped with a number and are exchangeable for prizes which include Savings Bonds, scuba outfits, camping gear, and sets of auto tires. The scuba dive will be followed by a "free" dive (no diving gear), in shallower water, for more doubloons and prizes. A minimum age limit of 12 is allowed for the "free" dive.

To please racing fans from all types of racing, Jones has composed a program of full midgets, foreign stock cars and micro-midgets.

The full midget car drivers will be using Offy, Chev and Ford engines to power their open wheel cars.

Foreign stock cars will be of the V.W., Ford Cortina, Renault and Saab variety.

Richfield Dealer Billy Owens Has Weakness-Cars

By DAN C. WOOLDRIDGE
News Editor

"My weakness has always been mechanical and automobile work" and with those words Billy Owens began replacing a Cadillac carburetor.

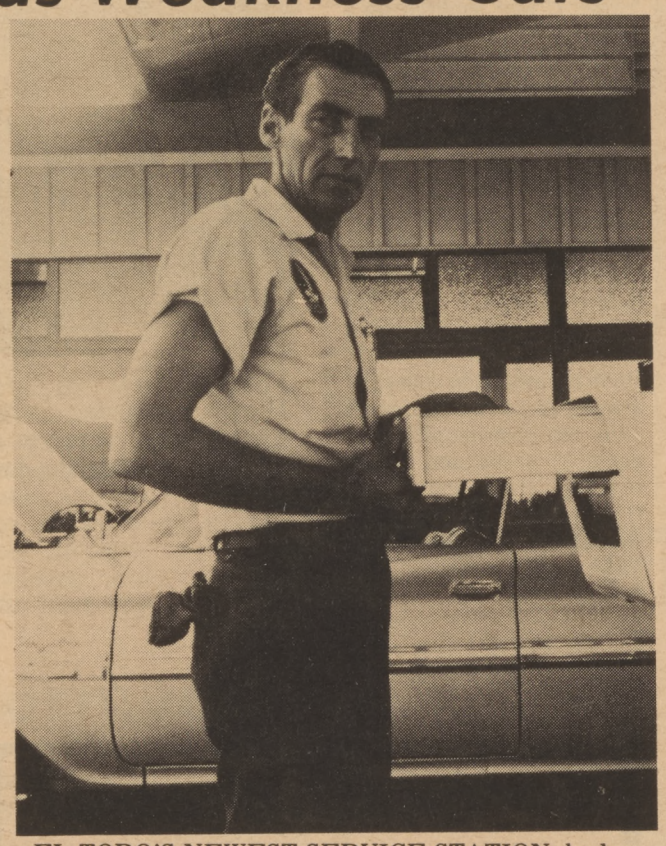
Billy Owens is the owner and manager of the new Richfield Gas and Service Station at Rockfield and El Toro Roads in El Toro.

The Alabama born Owens moved to California in 1956 and immediately began working on his weakness — cars. Living in Laguna Beach from 1956-65, where Owens eventually had his own Richfield Station.

Owens and his wife of 15 years, Eunice, are the proud parents of 4 children ranging in ages from 8 to 15. Eldest daughter Elaine 14, will attend Mission Viejo High School in the fall; Marlene, age 12, will attend Irvine School; James, age 11, will attend Olivewood School; and Diane, age 8 will attend Olivewood.

The Owen's have lived at 24572 Jutewood in El Toro since 1956. Eunice Owens, like husband Billy, was born in Alabama and keeps busy by teaching Sunday School at the Southern Baptist Church in El Toro.

Billy Owens opened the Richfield Station at 23742 El Toro Road in El Toro about 7 weeks ago. According to Owens the station has an ideal location for business and the Richfield Oil Company treats its dealers the way the dealer treats the customer — with courtesy and respect.



EL TORO'S NEWEST SERVICE STATION dealer Billy Owens has been open for business about 7 weeks at his Richfield Station on El Toro Road and Rockfield.

Owen's Richfield does all types of mechanical work with specialization in brake jobs and motor tunes. Billy says his entire staff have completed training course sponsored by Richfield Oil while Owens is a graduate of the Richfield Dealer's Training School.

Owens sees the repairing of cars and trucks as a specialized job requiring trained mechanics and the new dealer believes his staff fully competent for auto repairs.

Perhaps its just a coincidence that Billy has blue eyes and the Owens Richfield Station give Blue Chip Stamps, but then Mr. Owens also believes that the greater El Toro area has a "blue chip" future and he intends to be part of it. Toro's St. George's Episcopal Mission Dedicates New Church

About 300 members and friends of St. George's Episcopal Mission gathered at their site Sunday afternoon to witness the Groundbreaking Ceremony for their new Church buildings.

The site, purchased from Rossmoor Corporation, is located adjacent to the El Toro Offramp at the corner of Avenida Carlota.

Prior to the Ceremony, the congregation gathered at Manning's Banquet Room and then marched in procession to the church grounds, preceded by the robed clergy and acolytes carrying the processional cross and banners.

Arriving at the site, they found that the outlines of the main church building had been roped off and a temporary altar erected in what will be the sanctuary of the new church. The congregation arranged themselves around the perimeter to form a living outline of the new building while the service of Groundbreaking was conducted.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. F.C. Benson Belliss, Dean of the Long Beach Convocation and representing the Bishop of the Los Angeles Diocese who is in England attending the world-wide Lambeth Conference.

Assisting Dean Belliss were: The Rev. Keith Brownell, Financial Secretary of the Diocese who read the Lesson; and the Rev. Canon Douglas Stewart (Ret.) of Laguna Beach, who led the Responsive Reading.

The Rev. Frederick Hammond, Vicar of St. George's introduced the honored guests. At the proper point in the service, Dean Belliss broke the ground with a "golden" shovel and the action was repeated by Ted Cate, Chairman of the Building Committee.

Among the guests attending the Ceremony were: Edward Olson and Robert Price, representing the Leisure World Foundation; Burdett Lent and Ray Nona, representing Rossmoor Corporation; Mr. Don Davis, Architect for the new building and Mr. Jerry Daniels of Daniel Bros., General Contractors.

Visiting clergy included the Rev. Vernon Kotter, Pastor of the Lutheran Church of the Cross, the Rev. Alec Nichols, Minister of the United Methodist Church, and the Rev. Robert Lang, Pastor of the Mount of Olives Lutheran Church of Mission Viejo.

Following the Ceremony, a reception was held at Manning's Banquet Room where refreshments were served.

Ticker Tape "Top Out" By Roppers At Newport Plaza

Symbolic "topping out" of the first nine-story structure of twin towers in Newport Financial Plaza included the tossing of ticker tape from on high by three attractive members of the California Tip Toppers Club.

Occupancy for an initial 15 financial companies, plus general offices for The Irvine Company and others, is set for fall, according to William R. Mason, Irvine Company president. The second "twin" already is under construction.

Irvine Company officials donned symbolic top hats for the informal "topping out" prior to a reception on the seventh floor. Mason's office will be there when headquarters of the 83,000-acre Irvine Ranch are moved to the 622-acre Newport Center in Newport Beach.

Symbolism pointing up the creation of a needed cluster of stock brokerage firms and allied financial businesses to serve affluent Orange County and the South Coast included use of genuine ticker tape provided by the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange. It was used as serpentine as in "ticker tape" welcomes in New York's financial section.

The $4.4 million structure was designed by William L. Pereira & Associates, with Diversified Builders, Inc as general contractors. The latter's workmen cooperated enthusiastically in the topping out tape tossing led by the shapely Tip Toppers, members of the famed group of tall men and women.

The girls were Gayle Lewis, 24, who is 6'2" tall and will be teaching in the Anaheim School District this fall; Ruth Hollenbeck, 21, who is 6'1½" tall and a graduate of Santa Ana High School; and Salligene Neill, 19, 6'2" Tip Topper from Los Angeles, who cruised last year on Chapman College's "World Campus Afloat."

"Significant of the need for this 16-acre Newport Financial Plaza is the fact that not only is space in the second nine-story structure already 40 per cent committed, but a complementing one-story building is under construction just north of this initial tower."

YMCA Teen Placement Center Breaks Record

South Orange County YMCA Teen Placement Counselor Jean Mc Manus reported Tuesday that 233 girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 24 had been placed on jobs in Laguna Beach, El Toro and Laguna Niguel, during the month of July.

This brings the year's total to 1,100 and continues to uphold the "Y" record for being Orange County's largest teen placement center.

Mrs. Mc Manus said, "Thanks to many businesses and friends of the YMCA, July was our biggest month in history. We hope August is big too, because we still have many clean-cut, ready and willing youngsters coming in looking for part-time and full-time jobs."

"Y" Director Roger Carter indicated the service is in its eighth year and is a joint venture of the YMCA and the State of California Youth Opportunities Program.

Carter said, "We believe the youth employment service serves three main functions: first, it gives the community a ready source of part-time and full-time young people who want to work. Secondly, it gives kids the chance to try working and to earn their own spending money, many for the first time.

Third, it takes the edge off the town in that it gives local boys and girls something meaningful to do rather than just sit around. We place everyone free with no cost to employer or teenager, but without the help of the Community Chest and individual adults, the service would be impossible.

Adults who have jobs or teens interested in a job should call the YMCA at 494 9431.

Mission Viejo PTO Sets Faculty Lunch

A buffet luncheon to honor the faculty of Mission Viejo High School will be prepared and served by the board of the Parent Teacher Organization at noon, September 5, in the high school cafeteria.

Plans for the luncheon and for a Treasure Hunt Sale to be held November 9 were made at a recent meeting of the board. Mrs. Vera Lindley and Mrs. Betty Wilson will co-chairman the Treasure Sale, and they are busy asking friends and neighbors to save clothing, shoes, white elephants, appliances, and big paper shopping bags for the event.

SJC Hosts ACT Test

The American College Test (ACT) will be given to prospective Saddleback College students September 7, announced M. Bud Weber, associate dean of students.

Dean Weber said students wishing to take the test September 7 should contact him at the college office, 25001 La Paz Road, Mission Viejo, or call 837-9700. He explained that the ACT is not required again if previously taken.

San Juan Capistrano Mission Sacked-In 1818

By FRANK CURRAN

In the early morning hours of December 4th, 1818, Hippolyte de Bouchard, pirate and insurgent of Buenos Aires landed his crew of 140 cutthroats and sacked the town and mission of San Juan Capistrano.

He had sailed from Monterey after burning and looting the town for five days. He then moved down the coast to Refugio beach approximately 25 miles north of Santa Barbara. The beach is overlooked by the vast rancho of Don Jose Ortega, known as El Refugio. Here Bouchard was repulsed by the daring action of Don Antonio Lugo and his men.

The padres of the Mission Capistrano had been warned of Bouchard's impending arrival. Women and children and supplies were removed to Trubuco Rancho.

The pirate, who had formerly sailed with Jean Laffite out of New Orleans, sent a small band of sailors ashore under a flag of truce demanding food and supplies for his crew. This occured the afternoon of the third.

Santiago Arguello who was defending the town refused. He replied in a defiant message to the effect that the only supplies Bouchard would receive would be lead and iron out of a gun.

The following morning he landed his crew and Arguello with only thirty men and low on powder was forced to withdraw. Later that afternoon filled with wine and brandy, but little else, they staggered back to the ship.

Bouchard set sail for Santa Barbara where he was again foiled by Lugo but did have a little better luck. He managed under a flag of truce to trade the town drunk captured at Monterey for two of his men seized at Refugio Beach.

Air California Increases Flights

Air California increased its schedule of flights between Orange County and the Bay Area last Saturday, August 10, Dudley Miller, vice president — marketing announced today.

One key feature of the increased schedule will be inauguration of six daily direct-service flights between Oakland International Airport and Orange County Airport.

There will be a total of 51 daily flights between Orange County and San Francisco, San Jose and Oakland. There will be 17 non-stop DC 9 "Sunjet" flights daily serving San Francisco, 18 electra jet non-stop flights daily serving San Jose, and 16 Electra jet flights daily serving Oakland, including the six non-stop flights.

In addition, extra flights are scheduled on Fridays and Sundays to accommodate weekend travellers during peak travel hours on those days.

The new schedules will remain in effect throughout the remainder of the summer vacation and post-Labor Day holiday periods.

PROUD OF MEDALS — More than 200 years of Freemasonry are represented in these four members of the Masonic Club of Leisure World Laguna Hills who received 50-year gold lapel pins. Sup. Hirstein Conti.

Toro overpass to be built.

Hirstein viewed the problem of traffic as growing greater with passage of time and Hirstein hopes the funds will be made available at the earliest possible time.

Hirstein represents the 4th Supervisorial district which includes El Toro, parts of Mission Viejo, Tustin, East Irvine, Orange, Villa Park, Anaheim, nearly the entire old Rancho de Santiago and the Cleveland National Forest in Eastern Orange County.

Sup. Hirstein sees the Watson property tax initiative as a dangerous and improper method of property tax relief. "I favor property tax relief, but the Watson proposal is not the answer", said Hirstein. Local government will lose its chief means of obtaining revenues according to the Supervisor and then couldn't provide basic services to the County's residents. Hirstein listed water, schools, police, fire, health and parks as services which would be crippled by the initiative.

The Watson measure calls for a limitation of revenue that can be raised from property taxes and prohibits the spending of such revenue for certain services without in any way making provision for replacing lost revenue for the essential services affected.

Hirstein, former councilman and mayor of Orange, expressed the view that eventually the County Park system can be taken from the tax roll and made self-paying. The County is currently building, planning, and improving the following parks: Irvine, O'Neill, Mile Square in Fountain Valley, Aliso Beach, Sycamoure in Santa Ana Canyon, Fullerton Dam, University Park, and Carbon Canyon.

According to Hirstein many of our parks are used by non-County residents while local residents are shouldering the tax burden. Supervisor Hirstein favors a program which would charge non-residents and make available at a small cost seasonal passes for residents. Hirstein believes his proposal would make it possible to remove the 2 cents per hundred tax for parks from the County tax rolls.

Hirstein, a native of Illinois, was elected to the Orange County Board of Supervisors in 1954 and has been reelected three times. Supervisor Hirstein served twice as chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

OREN ARNOLD, professional writer from Laguna Beach, spoke to members of the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo last week on man in a rapidly changing world. He told the service club members that the great change in our society has been caused by the great increase in human knowledge. RANCHO REPORTER PHOTO.

Knowledge Explosion Shocking Kiwanis Told

By CARL E. VENSTROM
Editor and Publisher

"The great change taking place in our society is caused by the great increase in human knowledge," said Oren Arnold, professional writer, to members of the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo last week.

"This increase in knowledge," said Arnold, "has been an emotional shock to many of our citizens." He said that friends of his, who are psychiatrists, claim that 80 per cent of all mental illness could have been prevented by simple kindness.

Arnold said that psychiatrists and psychologists today are becoming more and more interested in what goes on "between people," whereas they used to be interested in what was happening "within the individual."

"The sociologist, the psychologist, the people in the know will tell you that most of the troubles in America are caused by this fantastic change taking place," said Arnold.

The only way to combat this fast change, said Arnold, is by the individual keeping up with things by reading, exchanging ideas and by more education.

He pointed out that in most junior colleges in California and Arizona the adult, evening school enrollment is larger than the normal, day time enrollment.

Arnold said it is unfortunate that modern journalism sees fit to print man's failures on the front pages and to bury his successes in the inside pages.

Arnold has been a free lance writer for the past 40 years with winter residency in Phoenix, Arizona and spending his summers in Laguna Beach.

His 54th book was published in June of this year. Many of his books have dealt with teen age youths. Arnold has also written more than 2,000 articles that have appeared in major, national magazines. He is also a short story writer and a novelist.

He has been a member of the Kiwanis Club in Phoenix for many years and, for the past 18 years, has written a column for The Kiwanis Magazine entitled "Gong and Gavel." He is also an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club of Laguna Beach.

Saddleback College Trustees Approve $6.5 Million Budget

Saddleback College Board of Trustees gave final approval to a $6,571,956 budget Monday, August 5.

The budget for the 1968-69 fiscal year set the tax rate at 53 cents, a breakdown of 40 cents for general operation and 13 cents for payment of bond redemption and interest. It marks the first year as a taxing entity for the new college which is to open its doors at the Mission Viejo campus September 23.

The total assessed valuation on secured common property is $423,403,310. In its first year the college is not eligible to receive tax revenue on the unsecured assessed valuation, totaling $17,567,530, said Roy n. Barletta, Saddleback business manager.

Since property owners in Saddleback district pay educational costs in arrears for students attending other colleges last year, an additional estimated 20-cent tax rate will be charged on the tax roll for that junior college tuition cost.

Barletta explained that in 1969-70 the estimated tax rate of 53 cents will be the sole junior college cost. The tax rate will be determined by the Saddleback College Board of Trustees which will have full governing power in regard to budgeting.

The 1968-69 budget sets $1,576,456 for general operation and $4.5 million for building fund capital outlay. The breakdown is as follows:

Capital outlay — site, $2,415,000; improvement of site, $160,300; buildings, $136,360; books, $126,450, and equipment, $446,841. Also in building fund is administration, $10.000; and fixed charges, $600. Reserve is $1,203,449.

General fund — Administration, $157,105; instruction, $756,147;

Old-Timer Joined In Urging Park

By McKAY MITCHELL
Rancho Reporter Columnist

For the past several months we have been advocating the preservation of Aliso Canyon as a primitive area with some measure of active interest developed.

Much to our pleasant surprise we find that while we were marching down the canyon to the sea, a Laguna group was working toward the mountains with the same thought.

The Citizens Town Planning Association of Laguna is advocating a green belt around Laguna which would include not only Aliso Canyon but the area along El Toro Road from the summit west of Laguna Hills to Laguna Canyon Road.

In union there is strength so perhaps we are off and flying up, up and away on this project.

Modjeska Canyon Gets Fire Station

The fire conscious men and women of Modjeska Canyon are about to receive a new $78,000 fire station.

Currently Modjeska Canyon is served by a small facility located at Harding Canyon and Modjeska Canyon Roads. The County has purchased 32,851-square feet on land east of the existing station for the new fire house.

Land was bought from the Wilford Andelin family,, owners and operators of the Sweden Inn, located across from the proposed station.

Modjeska is famous for their "Ladies in Red", wives of paid-call firemen who handle the fire stations operations during the day.

Organized in 1957 the ladies drive the rescue truck and deal with many emergency situations. About 25 women are in the auxiliary unit which trains frequently for all types of emergency problems.

The new fire station will eventually be staffed with a revolving three-man crew.

JANIS VENSTROM

Shopping With Jan

The Golden Bull restaruant in El Toro, next to the Green Thumb, just opened its doors last week and is an architectural asset to the area, as well as having superb food.

The Golden Bull's prices are extremely reasonable and an added feature that is greatly appreciated in the newspaper business is that we now have a restaurant that is open twenty-four hours a day. Sometimes we have to burn the mid-night oil and a cup of coffee and sandwich sure helps.

The coffee shop is decorated in fine taste not to mention that the menu is very liberal in the variety of selections one receives.

After trying the coffee shop you might like to have lunch or dinner in one of their very handsome dining rooms. The prices again are reasonable and served with experience.

Welcome to El Toro, Mr. Golden Bull, and Mr. Lew Monson, and we here at the Rancho Reporter office wish you many, many satisfied diners.

Those of you who are still planting greenery to enhance your home surroundings must (if you haven't already) stop in and visit the Mission Viejo Garden Center on Chrisanta Dr. in Mission Viejo. They have some terrific buys.

The Center is closed on Mondays so don't waste a trip, but if you are in the market for landscaping give them first priority any day but Monday. You certainly will not be disappointed. Look for their advertisement displayed weekly in the pages of your Rancho Reporter, for the SPECIAL of the week.
